REPORT OF TRUSTEES

With the addition of the books so generously given by Mrs. Giddings last year, and the recent purchases made by the trustees, the capacity of the library shelving, as at present arranged, has been reached and it becomes necessary to provide room for future accessions either by additional shelving, placed at an inconvenient height, or by the installation of the initial units of a stack system.

A gift worthy of special mention is the old musket carried at the battle of Bennington by Sergeant John Merrill and presented to the town by his great grandson, Mr. Otis A. Merrill.

John Merrill is also notable as one of the sixty-five Hudson minute men who, warned of the advance of the British toward Concord, assembled hurriedly at the Centre and marched for Lexington on the very afternoon of the fight, April 19, 1775.

Sergeant Otis A. Merrill, the donor of the gun, is one of the few survivors of the Civil War, enlisting from Hudson at the age of 18, serving for nearly three years, and receiving the "Gilmore medal" for gallant conduct.

REPORT OF SCHOOL BOARD

To the Citizens of the District:

It has been necessary during the past year to continue the use of the room in the Odd Fellows building, thus taking care of about twenty pupils from Grades IV, V, and VI.

Early in the fall term so many children were enrolled in Grade I of the Webster School that it seemed advisable to employ a part time teacher as assistant, which was done, with good results. By utilizing a part of this assistant's time in Grade II, it became possible for Mrs. Racine, teacher of that grade, to supervise the teaching of music in all the rooms of the Webster and Centre Buildings. Mrs. Racine, an accomplished musician, has had special preparation for teaching this subject and her work is already showing results.

The teachers of domestic arts and manual training are conducting classes during one session each week at the Centre School. We recommend for your consideration the project of finishing a room in the tower of the Centre School Building to be used by the domestic science class.

The committee appointed at the last annual meeting to select a site for a new school building secured a lot on the western side of the Lowell road having a frontage on the street of over four hundred and forty-five feet. The point on this lot where the house would naturally be built is just one half mile south of Hadley's brook and a trifle less distance north of Pelham road. A part of the lot is covered with large trees and it will require very little labor to maintain a beautiful grove on a knoll in the rear of the projected building. The southern half of the lot is well adapted for a playground and should be reserved for that purpose.

In January of this year the last two of the district's notes were paid, so that at present we are out of debt. This is fortunate in view of the many demands for increased expenditures.

The City of Nashua has raised the charge for tuition in the High School from $76.00 per year to $95.00, the increase going into effect Jan. 1st, 1927. We shall, therefore, have to pay about $800.00 more for tuition this year than we had expected, with a still larger increase in prospect for next year.

The building at the Centre has been equipped with panic locks and the usual minor repairs have been made.

The following estimates for the year 1927-28 are submitted:

Estimated receipts from the minimum tax of $3.50,	$6,387.50
Additional sum required for support of schools,	15,700.00
For text-books, scholars' supplies, flags, etc.,	1,200.000
Excess salary of superintendent,	302.50
High school tuition,	7,500.C
	$31,090.00
Probable contribution of state,	6,000.00
Amount to be raised by the district,	$25,090.00

KARL E. MERRILL,
HERBERT W. CANFIELD,
School Board of Hudson.

SUPERINTENDENT'S REPORT

To the School Board of Hudson:

GENTLEMEN: I have the honor of presenting herewith my eighth annual report as superintendent of your schools.

Membership

The number of children in Hudson has not materially changed since my last report. Though the total enrollment for the school year may show in June a slight increase over last year, the average membership will be slightly smaller because of the number of our pupils who are attending the new parochial school. This probably puts over for the present year the necessity of erecting a new school building.

Teaching Force

Three vacancies in your teaching force occurred last June as a result of visits to the Webster School of two superintendents from Massachusetts. Mrs. Addie Hobart, who had been a valued principal for the past four years, received a considerably better offer in Arlington and the two Misses Lavoie received flattering contracts in Walpole, Mass. We should be pleased that these teachers were able to do better, but thankful that others were retained because of local ties.

You now have in your teaching force thirteen regular teachers, one part-time assistant and two special teachers. Of your thirteen regular teachers, but four are new to Hudson this year. All four are normal graduates and two of them have had several years of successful experience.

School Costs

I conceive it to be the duty of school officials first of all to establish and maintain as good schools as the funds at their disposal may permit, and second, to advise their constituents as to the amount of funds necessary for maintaining as good a system of schools as they can afford. It has been my observation and experience that a community will be generous in its financial backing of school officials as long as it feels that it is receiving a hundred cents' worth for each dollar expended, and that it will commence to be niggardly in its appropriations when it is suspicious of any waste of its funds.

Unfortunately, the public, at least, has no universal criterion by which it measures the quality of school work. Such standards cannot be fixed as long as public opinion differs as to what kind of instruction and what qualities in training are the most valuable. However, the cost to the community for the maintenance of the public schools is universally measured by the outlay in dollars and cents. In this respect statistics may be given which will be interpreted by all alike.

The total costs of the elementary schools of New Hampshire per pupil of average membership in the different school districts varied for last year from $37.60 to $266.64 with a median cost of $78.57. The cost in Hudson was but $54.02 or less than 69 per cent of the cost in the median school district in the state.

This is not, however, the whole story as far as it concerns the tax payers of Hudson. The large number of children in the public schools in proportion to the taxable property makes the support of the public schools somewhat burdensome. The expenditure for public education, elementary and secondary, per $1,000 of equalized valuation in this state for last year ranged from $1.29 to $28.68 with a median at $9.90. For Hudson the expenditure was $15.49, of which $3.34 was borne by the state, leaving $12.15 for the district's share. The median share of the expense for the school districts of the state for last year was about $8.25. This shows Hudson's expense per $1,000 of equalized valuation to be 147 per cent of the expense of the median school district of the state.

From the above we may conclude that there has been in Hudson a very economic expenditure of school funds in a town where it is particularly incumbent that such should be the case, and also that the administration of the statute has not very effectively equalized the burden of public education as far as Hudson is concerned.

The Problem of the Feeble-minded

The Commissioner of Education in his report to the Legislature this year has devoted an entire chapter to the consideration of the problem of the feeble-minded. Using the term feeble-minded to designate those individuals who cannot live unprotected lives without danger to themselves and others, he makes the very conservative estimate that there are at least four thousand in this state. It is quite probable that there are three or four times that number.

At least three fourths of this class are feeble-minded from inheritance and their offspring will be of like mentality with all their parents' potentiality for the spread of crime and disease. Though marriage of the feeble-minded has long been contrary to the statute, the law has been ineffective because of the lack of any official designation of the individuals of this class. The Legislature of 1925 placed the responsibility for this classification of such as attend the public schools upon the superintendents of the state. This is a grave responsibility but one that should be conscientiously observed if any progress is to be made in removing this danger to society. This legal obligation has furnished the superintendent with an excuse for the general use of the mental tests which have proven of great value in administration.

In general, I believe your schools are continually improving in serving their purpose though their administration offers each year new problems because of the increasing numbers. Your pupils are doing well in the Nashua High School and I hear no complaints of lack of preparation.

The health work is faithfully attended to by your nurse whose report is attached.

Thanking the board for the considerate treatment received from their hands, this report is

To the School Board and Citizens of Hudson:

I tender my report as school nurse for the past year.

The number of children in your schools with defective teeth and enlarged tonsils remain very high. Very few with enlarged tonsils being treated this past year. These are two important factors in a child's health and should have treatment if you expect your children to keep up in their work at school. I suggest some means be worked up for a dental clinic.

Through the thoughtfulness of the graduating class from the Webster School of 26 a milk fund was established in that school. We now have an average of about 60 bottles of milk taken each day. Most of this milk is paid for by the parents of the children, a few receiving free milk. Those taking milk show a gain in weight, also an improvement in general condition.

Through the co-operation of the special cooking teacher and the regular teachers of the Webster School, hot lunches, for a very small sum, are provided for the children who are unable to go home to lunch and would otherwise have to eat a cold lunch. Of course this makes more work for the teachers but they are very willing to give this time for the benefit of the children. I hope that next year we shall be able to do the same thing in the Center School.

I have spent a great deal of time in the homes, but not near as much as should be spent on account of being able to give only part time service to Hudson as I have to spend a proportionate share in the other towns of the district. I believe that by getting acquainted with the parents and getting their confidence we shall be able to get better results.

I believe the attendance record has been kept up, due to the co-operation of the teachers in sending me daily a report of the absent children and in that way keeping account of all children and knowing when any disease started.

I have had splendid support and cooperation from all the teachers in town and also the parents, without which very little could be done.

Of contagious diseases, there has been a number of cases of chicken-pox and mumps, also a very few cases of whooping cough.

The list below shows the defects found and improvements made.
